

Chemistry careers in SMEs (CCiSME)

A context/problem-based learning (C/PBL) resource

List of SME video clips

Samantha Pugh, Christopher Hone and Benjamin Hetherington
University of Leeds

Produced for the Royal Society of Chemistry

List of video clips

Kristina Paraschiv, MChem year in industry student

1. Working for a Chemical SME [01:45]
2. How has your degree helped you? [00:52]
3. Working for the company [01:26]
4. What's it like working for a small company? [01:44]
5. What has surprised you working there? [01:57]
6. What are your future plans? [01:03]

David Williamson, final year MChem student

1. Working for an SME [01:24]
2. How has your degree helped you? [00:48]
3. What's it like working for a small company? [01:23]
4. What did you enjoy about working for an SME? [00:53]
5. What was the biggest surprise for you? [00:55]
6. What's it like working for a large multinational company? [02:09]
7. What was your role at Coca-Cola? [01:08]
8. How did you find your summer placement? [00:51]
9. What were the differences between working for an SME and a multinational? [01:14]
10. What are your future plans? [01:24]

Dr Catherine O'Leary-Steele, LHASA

1. Working for an SME [02:29]
2. Working for a charity [01:09]
3. Tell us about a typical day [01:56]
4. How have your degrees helped you? [01:58]
5. What do you find challenging about the work? [01:11]
6. What do you enjoy about your work? [00:52]

Dr Matthew Tozer, Peakdale Molecular Ltd

(Note: this set of videos were produced for the Naproxen resource, but they give some really useful career insights that are very useful for the SME resource).

- Video 1 – Matt Introduces himself and what Peakdale does [01:42]
- Video 4 – Teamwork [00:52]
- Video 5 – Communication [01:19]
- Video 6 – Problem-solving [01:54]
- Video 7 – What is a typical day for a graduate chemist? [01:39]
- Video 8 – What do chemists learn working in a business? [03:29]